

create and open response prompt about composition romanticism and neoclassicism

The 18th century is typically characterized by two major artistic styles: Romanticism and Neoclassicism. Although both styles differ in their approach to artistic expression, they both had a lasting impact on culture and history. Romanticism focused more heavily on emotion and personal expression, while Neoclassicism was rooted in the traditions of ancient Greece and Rome. So, what were the main differences between Romanticism and Neoclassicism, and how have these two movements impacted the way we view art today?
