

Stormbreaker chapter 2

Alex woke early the next morning, eager to get to his new home. His parents had already gotten started packing the night before, so he wasn't one of the last to leave the house.

As he loaded the car, Alex couldn't help but feel a mix of excitement and nerves. His family had been living in the same place for as long as he could remember and it felt strange to leave it all behind. However, he was also looking forward to the new opportunity and the adventure it would bring.

Alex said one final goodbye to his old home and hopped in the car. His dad drove them the two hours to Stormbreaker Manor, and when they finally arrived, Alex couldn't help but be impressed.

The manor was an imposing structure, with a bright blue roof and multiple stories. Alex was quickly taken on a tour of the place, getting to know all the strange sections, such as the armory, library, and observatory.

After the tour was finished, it was time to unpack. With a bit of effort, Alex and his family had everything situated. They all took some time to explore their new home while also adjusting to their new lifestyle.

In the weeks that followed, Alex quickly became accustomed to his new routine. He was amazed at how easily the castle staff seemed to cater to their every need, and his parents were more than happy with the manor and its facilities.

Alex was also exploring the grounds and getting to know the locals. As he became a regular at the local village, he built up a friendship with the Blackthorn siblings, two other kids who also lived at Stormbreaker. They all shared similar interests, such as martial arts and books, making for a perfect trio.

Together, they would explore the grounds and its rich history, the Blackthorn's always on the hunt for any artifacts or treasures. And when things got too dangerous, Alex could always call upon the incredible Stormbreaker security detail to protect them.

Alex had only been living in Stormbreaker Manor for a few months, but already he had grown so comfortable with the place, it felt more like home than anywhere else.
